

Links Policy

Adopted March 23, 2003
Revised July 4, 2012

The International Trombone Association reserves the right to reject or remove any link or advertising banner to any website or webpage it considers inappropriate.

The International Trombone Association reserves the right to reject or remove any link advertising banner to any website or web page which contains links to other web pages or websites it considers inappropriate.

ITA reserves the right to remove any link or advertising banner if the content of a website or web page is altered in such a way that ITA considers it has become inappropriate or if the website or web page has added links to other web pages or websites ITA considers inappropriate.

The International Trombone Association considers material inappropriate that is defamatory, offensive, or of an obscene or menacing character, or which may, in our judgment, cause annoyance, inconvenience, anxiety or distress to any person.

All links and advertising banners will be reviewed by a panel of three individuals appointed by the webmaster prior to publishing. The webmaster's decision to publish or remove any link or advertising banner is final.

A link or advertising banner listed on the ITA website in no way constitutes an endorsement by ITA of the organization, individual, product or opinion to which the link is associated.

The International Trombone Association shall not be held responsible for the content on websites or web pages viewed via a link or advertising banner appearing on the ITA website.

No refunds will be paid to advertisers whose site changes so that it no longer complies with this policy. This policy is subject to change at any time without notice.
